Seam Mineral

Seam Minerals Supa Boost is a product of nature, from the careful harvesting of the finest ocean derived sea minerals to the very selective growing, hand picking and blending of herbs with sea minerals.

Sea Minerals are the finest and most balanced source of minerals that nature has to offer. Unlike other ionic minerals, Sea Minerals are sourced from living breathing oceans where concentrations of minerals are perfectly engineered by nature to support a vast array of different life forms.

Laboratory tests done in Australia, the United States and Europe have demonstrated that Sea Minerals are not only a viable source of electrolytes, both macro (major) and trace (minor), they are also the best all round naturally balanced mineral product available.

Five decades of careful observation and research has convinced the developer of the sea mineral range that there is nothing the body cannot do when given the right nutrients. With that in mind the developer set out to combine the finest herbs with the finest ionic minerals.

The specific herbs found in Seam Mineral Supa Boost have many varied properties that may help your body when it needs it most. These same herbs are high in antioxidants, a substance that prevents damage caused by free radicals.

radicals are highly reactive chemicals that often contain oxygen. They are produced when molecules are split to give products that have unpaired electrons.

Through our very own proprietary process we have been able to preserve the integrity of the herbs and the minerals without the use of any heat or chemical processes. Over a number of months selective hand-picked herbs are slowly blended with the best sea minerals to produce only the very finest hand-crafted nutritional products available in the world.

At Seam Mineral.com.Inc. we don't believe in medicines or cures. We believe that with the introduction of good food and safe, quality supplements in our daily diets, we can live long, healthy and fulfilling lives.

Try it today and see why thousands of people the world over are rushing to get their BOOST!
